

JUNIORS HOLD ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

"The Scientific Aspects of Promology," was the subject discussed by Glenn Harmon in the Junior program, Friday morning.

The other numbers on the program were: Piano recital, Gertrude Olson and Florence Newell; reading, Helen Casland; and a humorous violin duet, Rex Gardner and Edmund Evans. The program furnished much amusement for the audience.

Professor E. H. Edmund lectured to the Art Appreciation class on the "Ancient Beginnings of Art." The development of early art was beautifully illustrated by the use of many reproduction slides.

FROM THE ART GALLERY

Professor E. H. Edmund will give lecture Saturday afternoon to the Faculty Women's Association on "Art Exhibitions and the World's Greatest Exhibitions."

The second of the Patron's Loan Exhibits is being collected and will be hung in the faculty room within the next few days.

STUDENTS ASSIST IN PROGRAM

The Women's Municipal Council has a program of music and dancing in College Hall Thursday evening. This series of the University students participated.

Frank Wofford and Blaise Thomas played a duet, and accompanied on the piano by Miss Louise Hays. Miss Hays also played a piano solo.

Fives Divide Spoils

The games played at the Desert Gymnasium between the University of Utah and the A. C. result in a tie, the Aggies winning the first night in the game of 35 to 0 and losing Saturday's contest to 26 to 29.

Friday's game was rather a tactical affair, one team forcing ahead, then retreating while the opposing stepped out. The A. C. made a strong play and became backy but Utah, five to four, won the game. It was considerably wherever a rally was staged.

The game started with an Aggie offensive which garnered them a 14 to 0 lead, but the Crimson came back strong, making the score 19 to 16 at the end of the half.

With the resumption of play the U. tied the game at 21 and went into a lead at 29 to 26. With Kink and Tins playing a rally and Cowley catching one short fumble, the Aggies led a 34 to 26 in 39 minutes but maintained despite the utmost efforts of the Crimson. The game ended with Utah Wins 34 to 26.

Nelson to Direct Clean Town Contest

At a meeting of the Utah County Clean Town Contest committee in Spanish Fork Friday afternoon, Nelson, Director of Extension at the Brigham Young University, was elected chairman and Junius B. Lehi secretary of the committee.

The plan of the campaign is similar to organizing in each of the communities of Utah County, and the work of organizing the towns will commence immediately. The committee, according to Mr. Nelson, to secure the cooperation of every individual in the county, and to this end the support of all civic, religious and business organizations will be sought.

It is proposed by the state organization that the campaign be carried through assessing each individual of the town with a list of five evils. The aim will be to get this money from each individual in the town that each may be brought into direct contact with the movement.

The scope of the work will be that of city and home beautification through the disposal of rubbish and debris, cleaning of home surroundings, painting of buildings, repair of fences and cleaning of buildings. It is at all breeding places for flies and other breeding places of unsanitary conditions. The primary object is to make the homes of the community of Utah County, better places in which to live, by making them more beautiful, and clean, and by improving their conveniences and beauty. The slogan of the campaign is "Our Community Is Your Job."

Professors Write For Deseret News

The Saturday edition of the Deseret News contained three numbers from the Y. N. professors: "Deseret News" a poem by Alfred Edmund, "Utah County's First Court House," by J. M. Jensen, and a story on the city court by H. R. Merrill.

The first is a interesting history of one of Provo's oldest buildings. Utah County's first court house was a log cabin, then a school house, then built in 1866 for the modest sum of $20,000. After service as jail and court house for five years, the building was sold to the Provo Western Mills and has been used as a warehouse and will now serve as a modern office.

An interesting account of the trial of a young desperado held there is given. He had killed two men in cold blood, wounded another, and when he learned he was sentenced to die he hid his body to a local physician for, according to eye accounts, candy, and another, the whole body was taken to the city. But after the execution some mistake was made in preparing the body. But the physician lost out after all. He, supposedly, was buried in the Provo foothills, but since the grave has been opened and found to contain only a single brick, so the story is still shrouded in mystery.

In the last of the three articles was a poem by H. R. Merrill. The decorations for the day were drawn by Miss Ruth Harp.

GATES AND PARODIE LECTURE ON VOICE

Special lectures were given by Professor E. R. Parodie and Professor F. V. Gates to the Normal students last Monday.

It was a scientific lecture on voice given to the Education students who have no chance to study it in class. Professor Gates discussed the physics of the problem and Professor Parodie gave vocal illustrations.

Young Fish Work For State Splash

Under the Skillful Tutelage of Professor Lead

Under the skillful tutelage of Professor Lead, thirty-five "fishers" are actually working intensively to develop intercollegiate form. Most of the candidates are inexperienced men, but Coach Lead is confident that several of his proteges will place in the state meet at Logan, February 26.

The large number composing the attention class has been divided into two groups, giving the prospective team more intensive training.

Several prominent swimmers who were rated for the team will not be eligible for collegian competition upon the finding that they were not of collegian standing. Johnson, Christensen and Harris are selected swimmers who will be unable to participate.

It is expected that Reine will be rather a surprise at the meet. The performance of this youth is remarkable and the "Y" member expects great things from this freshman. Clark, Brown, Marston, Christensen, Jones, Markham, Sunberg, Fry, Stevens, all performing creditably, and will present a well balanced team.

At the meeting of the Coach's board at Salt Lake City, it was decided to increase the size of the team from a five to a eight man team.

The following events were agreed upon:

Forty yard free style, 40 yard breast stroke, 60 yard back stroke, 100 yard free style, 100 yard breast stroke, 200 yard free style, 100 yard relay team of four men.

B. Y. Y. WOMEN ARE ENTERTAINED

The B. Y. Y. Women were entertained Saturday at the home of Mrs. C. E. Maw. Professor Madsen gave the story of the development of the opera were rendered by Margaret Johnson, Richard Condit, Virginia Reeder, Frank Wofford and Professor Sear. The music was sung by the director of Mrs. Madsen who was accompanied for all the singers.

Valentine suggestions were carried out in a color scheme of red and white flowers and a delicious lunch. Mrs. Thelma L. Martin sang, Miss Abigail Maw, Murray K. Hayes, and Miss Florence Newell assisted the hostess.
